

LIS-3353

Looking forward:

(these slides will not be tested)

Morals, Ethics, Law?

Morals, Ethics, Law?

I start here because, in this realm, there's a very very huge disjoint...

Morals, Ethics, Law?

Ideally: Morals → Ethics → Law.

Really, it's all over the place.

Influencers (there may be more, and your list may be different)

- Law
- Code
- Etiquette/Norms
- “Monetary incentives” (Economics)

Stuff that's probably more important than STEM
(but don't tell anyone I said this)

- Economics
- Sociology
- Philosophy
- Religion
- Psychology

...all the humanities, really...

Economics!

Adam Smith (Capitalism)

v.

Karl Marx (Communism)

v.

Thorstein Veblen
(Conspicuous Consumption?)

Law:

Consider carefully:

The Rule of Law

(law as a “truth-seeking” device)